Murphy said that the staff has for some time been interested in an Allen-Scott column which speculated that the US had discussed with the Soviet Union the possibility of our bombing the two nuclear reactors in Communist China if the Chicoms should decide to invade North Vietnam. At a recent luncheon, Scott mentioned this column to Staff Director Conway and Murphy and added that the Chicoms might very well set off a nuclear explosion in the near future. In this connection, Murphy asked (because of the close rapport with the Agency) if we could advise whether there was any "modicum of truth" to this statement. The Joint Committee's interest in this stems from the possibility of a leak of atomic energy information.

[REDACTED] She left the United States on 31 December 1963. Presently she is reported seeking re-entry. He said if we are interested, he may possibly have some information we don't have and he would be happy to pass it on to us.
